Signet Center will serve as a business center and provide a centralized location for a wide array of business, legal, and financial solutions for domestic and international clients, projects and developments. The building will house a variety of disciplines including legal, financial, real estate development, healthcare facility financing and development, mergers and acquisitions, project management and investment banking.

"As Signet Enterprises continues its evolutionary process of bringing together the best and brightest, this building will act as a center for business transactions bolstered by our teams' intellectual capital," said Tony Manna, CEO of Signet Enterprises.

The Jacksonville building symbolizes the southeast headquarters for both Signet and BMD. Its other location in Akron, Ohio, also serves Signet's business units around the world. In addition to BMD and Signet Enterprises, Signet Center will also include Signet Capital, an investment and merchant bank, Signet Development, ePIC Document Solutions (formally Southeast Legal Copy), and other companies that fit Signet's solution-oriented model.

“Signet Enterprises seeks growth through the expansion of strategic real estate development, the acquisition of new companies, the growth of our existing portfolio of companies and the accruing rewards of a long-term, buy-and-hold strategy,” Manna pointed out. “With significant experience in finance, management, development and transaction structuring, the leadership of the company has the background to enhance the value and profitability of each operating company we acquire.”

One of the group’s successful divisions, Signet Development, was founded in 1995 as a regional real estate development and construction management firm. Since its formation, it has grown into a national development and project financing company that provides solutions for public-private, commercial and healthcare development projects, including Metropolitan Parking Solutions in Jacksonville.

Signet Center, the newest Class “A” building downtown, includes 20,000 square feet spanning two floors. The building is located on 1.5 acres of land and includes 80 parking spaces. Rink, Reynolds, Diamond and Fisher designed the building.
